

BP Global STEM Academies Scholarship

The 2019 BP Global STEM Academies application cycle is now open. For the second year running, 100 students will be given the opportunity to study abroad via the BP Global STEM Academies scholarship program.

The BP Global STEM Academies are unique four-week full-scholarship programs that expose teens to key STEM principles and methodologies and critical global competence skills such as critical thinking, foreign languages and working in global teams to problem solve.

The BP Global STEM Academies blend immersive and hands-on STEM learning with cultural activities, intercultural learning and reflection to prepare diverse and talented high schoolers to succeed in an increasingly globally interconnected world.

The 2019 academies, in partnership with AFS Intercultural Programs, will take place this summer in Brazil, Egypt and the USA. Eligible students from all backgrounds are encouraged to apply for scholarship consideration including full program participation fees, transportation and living costs.

Applicants for the 2019 BP Global STEM Academies must be between 15 and 17.5 years of age with a demonstrated academic and career interest in science, technology, engineering, math, related fields and applications.

Deadline to apply is February 28, 2019. For program details, eligibility requirements and to apply visit <https://afs.org/stem-academy-scholarships/>
